“ I, like Tracy had been looking for you too. The last time we spoke was many years ago during a brief phone conversation. That’s when I learned you had a 10 year old daughter at the time. I called the number you had shared with me many times and left messages, but I never got a response. I thought about you today and did a Google search, sadly to find this tribute. Thank you to your family for creating it. Growing up in the Fillmore, people thought we looked alike and would mistake me for you regularly. A few months ago someone we went to high school with asked me if I was Chicken. I smiled as it brought back memories of my childhood and especially you. I thought of you often when I reminisced about my childhood because you were the only person I remembered attending kindergarten through high school with. We were not best friends, but we shared a mutual respect for each other and longevity. We were from the same neighborhood and shared the same childhood friends. Sadly after high school we never saw each other again. We still shared mutual friends, but never traveled in the same circles. During that conversation many years ago you also shared with me that you had completed your degree at the University of San Francisco and I was so very proud of you. I remember you sharing your high school graduation photos from Dore Studio with me at school one day. The same photo on this tribute page. We were all friends at George Washington High in San Francisco class of 1979, Tracey, you and I. My condolences to your family and especially your daughter. RIP Renee Denise Haskins.
