“ JoAnn Swaggard and I met in the Fairmont facility. We got closer and closer everyday that no one could keep either one of us away from each other and when we needed one another we were a phone call away and our room doors were always open. I helped her at her most lowest times and her most highest points as well. The nurses always called me and my mom to calm her down when she was yelling at them or didn't want to take her medicine, but she was the closest thing I had In the facility as a sister or family. When my mom had to leave after staying with me, she was right there helping me out as much as she could and I will never ever ever forget her memories she had gave me, and I'll always keep her memory alive #LongLiveJoJo ! I love you 💕💕💕🥹 I hope you are looking down on me and protecting me just like you used to do.
